Annual Church Meeting.
There was a large attendance at the annual roll call and meeting of the Congregational church and society. A bountiful dinner was served after which the society meeting was held, and the following officers were elected: Prudential committee, J. Ward Gillis, C. S. Ranney and O. H. Stevens; clerk, J. E. Tinker; treasurer, C. S. Ranney; auditor, Asa Wesson. At 2 o'clock came the roll call to which there was a large number of responses not only from those present but messages were also received from absent members. The church sustained a loss of three members by death the past year: Mrs. Celia Pettigill, Mrs. Martha Page and Mrs. Mary Crane, to whom the pastor paid loving tribute. Reports of the various church societies and Sunday school were given, all showing a prosperous year's work.

Howe-Well.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newell, on Wednesday evening of last week when Frances L. Newell and John Gilman Howe were united in marriage by Rev. George H. Cummings. The bride's gown was pale blue and land down combined with white silk and applique trimming of white. Her sister, Miss Sadie Newell, was bridesmaid and wore white muslin. Lewis Fisher was best man. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march played by Miss Maud Newell, sister of the bride. They stood beneath an arch of evergreen and the brief service was used. A large number of friends witnessed the ceremony and extended hearty congratulations and wishes for a happy future. Mr. and Mrs. Howe were the recipients of many useful and lovely gifts. Light refreshments were served and the newly wedded pair went immediately to their home in St. Johnsbury.

Business Meetings.

At the annual meeting of the Creamery Association a very prosperous year was reported, the receipts for butter being about $85. M. V. B. Sargent, president; Emory Clark, vice president; Emory Clark, M. V. B. Sargent, James Stevens, Frank Stocker and Piny McDonald were all re-elected for another year.

At the annual meeting of the fire district, Aaron Wesson was elected clerk; C. S. Dele, G. I. Green, Horace Rowe, permanent committee; Asa Wesson, treasurer; E. E. Badger, chief engineer; F. J. Preston and W. C. Hea, Jr., assistant engineers; F. J. Preston, superintendent; E. E. Badger, A. E. Currier, E. H. Brown, and others.

Harold Hatch, who has had some experience in amateur photography, has entered C. H. Clark's studio at St. Johnsbury to learn the business.

Oscar LaCourse has gone to Belfast, Penn., where he has a position in the Burnside Scale factory.

George C. Sanborn, who has been a great sufferer for a few months past, seems rather more comfortable of late.

The snow-rollers about here made their first trip of the season Monday.

Not Excelled.

The large magazine section of the last number of The Boston Sunday Herald was a notable fine effect in these days of fast newspaper work and was probably not excelled by any American newspaper. The arrangement and artistic beauty of the illustrations, so admirably brought out by the skillful work of the engravers, and excellence of the printing produced a result that was greatly admired.—[Exeter, N. H., News Letter.]

WHEELLOCK.

There was a very pretty home wedding at the parsonage last Wednesday night, when Rev. F. I. Sargent united his daughter, Mabel and Bernard Chase of Shillid in the holy bonds of wedlock. Their many friends wish them a long life of happiness.

LOWER WATERFORD.

Reception to Mr. R. E. S.

A farewell reception was tendered Rev. G. M. Rees last Wednesday evening at the Congregational church. Despite the stormy weather a large company gathered and he was presented with a goodly sum of money. The presentation speech was made by E. E. Hovey, "the orator for all occasions," as he has been aptly termed. Mr. Hovey said that he doubted if in the whole of its 105 years history the church had had a pastor superior in equal to Mr. Rees in point of ability. His sermons every Sunday were fresh, new and up to date. He admired Mr. Rees greatly, first, for his kindness to him during his recent illness, and said that his frequent and cheerful visits did more towards his recovery than the doctor's medicine; second, for his frankness and courage. He dared to speak his convictions without fear or favor; third, for his noble character. Mr. Rees was not only able but good—a splendid combination. Mr. Rees responded in his usual happy and appropriate manner. The family leave a host of friends who wish them abundant success in their new field of labor. They went to their new home in Ellington, N. Y., Tuesday.

Miss Ina Thomas of Lunenburg is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Amasa Badger died January 4, after a short and painful illness. The funeral was held at her late home Tuesday afternoon. She leaves one son, W. R. Hastings.

LYNDONVILLE.

The concert given Monday evening by the Mendelssohn Quartette was a treat to all lovers of music. Miss Margaret Smith, impersonator of children, was well received, as was also Miss Faye, soprano soloist. Every number on the program, with the exception of the last, was encored, and in several instances the artist gave double encores.

A. D. Paige is enjoying a visit from his brother of Canada.

Mrs. Dessie Locklin, who dislocated her ankle a few weeks ago, is now able to walk with the aid of crutches.

Clyde Anderson of Craftsbury is the guest of his uncle, J. S. Butler.

Clarence Graves of Fitchburg, Mass., is the guest of G. W. Blake.

The Methodist church is holding special meetings this week.

J. L. Watchie has opened a boot and shoe repair shop in connection with his store. The work will be done by Mr. Le Tournereau.

Boston Globe's Free School.

It is not necessary to point out to the people of New England the importance of education. New Englanders have been leaders in every movement for the advancement of learning, and, therefore, should be expected to give enthusiastic welcome and hearty aid to the "Globe's School for Home Study," which opened Monday, Jan. 12.

It will be conducted within the columns of the Daily Globe by a staff of competent teachers. The most important branches of a common school, a high school, and a business education will be taught. The aim will be to help those who have had no opportunity to learn the rudimentary branches of a common school education and those whose common school education was not completed, as well as all readers of the Boston Daily Globe who wish to review the lessons of their school days. For more ambitious students special departments will be established.

The course for the present will embrace the following studies: "Penmanship," "English Composition," "History Questions," "Geography Questions," "The Best Books and How to Read them."

Penmanship will be taught by means of diagrams and by pictures showing the proper position to take while writing. The members of the teaching staff of the "Globe's School for Home Study" will cheerfully answer in the Daily Globe all questions coming within their respective departments.

How to form a library will be considered from the following points of view: A good library for a girl, a good library for a boy, the best 12 books, the best 25 books, the best 50 books, the best 100 books.

The average circulation of the Boston Daily Globe for the year 1902 was 198,579, of the Boston Sunday Globe 276,296. Order your news-dealer to deliver the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe regularly at your home.

New Telephone Numbers.

Mitchell, F. H. Ranney, W. W. Sprague; in the offices of Dr. J. D. Bachand, Marshall Montgomery, W. W. Sprague; Worthen & Gleason's grocery store and Follenby & Peck's lumber camp at Victory.

Miss Guendoline Powers of East Concord, has secured a position in the office as operator in place of Miss Bessie Fox, resigned.

In New York Police Department.

At Christmas time many promotions were made to captains, sergeants and round-men in the police department of New York, and among them was Albert F. Mason, who was promoted from roundsman to sergeant, standing No. 10 on the eligible list out of 300 candidates. Mr. Mason, it will be remembered, was awarded honorable mention in August for meritorious service, and is the son of the late Thomas Mason and Jane Mason of Waterford. He was in the class of '88 St. Johnsbury Academy.

Vermont National Guard Competition.

General orders issued from the headquarters, First Infantry, Vermont National Guard, announce the result of competition for centennial trophy. The season for rifle practice was from March 1 to November 30, inclusive, and the returns for qualifications show a gain over the season of 1901, in the efficiency of the National Guard as a whole of over 102 per cent., and of the First regiment of infantry of over 108 per cent.

Cos. D. St. Johnsbury, F. Northfield, G. Bradford, which did practically nothing during the seasons of 1900 and 1901, have made marked gains during the season of 1902, while Co. B, St. Albans, which did nothing during 1900 and 1901, has done nothing this year.

Cos. C. Brandon, H. Montpelier, I. Brattleboro, K. Bennington, and L. New port, have not made a good showing, as in former years, while Co. A, Rutland, has made a slight gain; and Cos. E. Barre, and M. Burlington, have made marked gains over the season of 1901.

A BCNANZA AT HOME.

THE COUNTY FAIR & MUSICAL RAILWAY has been in operation for 3 years, and in that time has netted its owner $132,000 and its cost of 30,000. We have the sole right to this amusement at Rev. B. D. Newell, Mass., and shall make many patented attractions. It will be located by minute from the State Bath House and on the State Boulevard.

We Guarantee 10 per cent.

We GUARANTEE 10 per cent. and much larger dividends to likely to be earned. The stock will be to sale only a limited time. Advertising may stop in January, and if you want any stock you must be prompt. Only 25,000 shares are to be offered. When the buildings are up and enterprise earning money, you will be too late, then no stock can be had. Not less than 25 shares, nor more than 5000 to one person; 25 per cent with order, balance 30 and 0 days. Send for prospectus. WHETHER YOU BUY OR NOT, INVESTIGATE.

75 to 100 per cent. Dividends.

The crowds that frequent Revue Bench are immense, and the various amusements there are paying large dividends. The Steeplechase, for instance, in its first year for 1901, shows that it earned $24,286 net profit, running only 6 weeks complete, and in 1902, State Street Amusement earned about $25,000 net profit, sufficient to pay 75 to 100 per cent dividends. None of its stock is for sale.

Literate Gold Mines.

THE COUNTY FAIR & MUSICAL RAILWAY is more attractive and has a much greater earning capacity than the above mentioned amusement. Are mining gold, real estate, railroad, savings banks, industrial stocks in it? Do you know that $400,000,000 are yearly spent in the U. S. for amusements and only $600,000,000 for bread? Permanent amusement stocks are real gold mines and are seldom offered, and this may be the chance in your lifetime to get a legitimate bonanza right at home where you can see our gold mined.

Incorrigible.

It was decided that Mr. Wright must administer a stern lecture to his four-year-old daughter Florence. The little girl had been naughty, but she did not seem to appreciate the fact, and Mr. Wright reluctantly undertook a "scolding."

He hated to make the tender little heart ache and to see the dear child cry, but he forced himself to speak judiciously and severely. He recounted her misdeeds and explained the why and wherefore of his stern rebuke. Mrs. Wright sat by, looking duly impressed.

Finally Mr. Wright paused for breath and also to hear the small culprit acknowledge her error. The scolding was never continued. Florence turned a face beaming with admiration to her mother and said innocently: "Isn't papa interesting?"

At Home and Abroad.

A few days ago an elderly gentleman and his wife were walking along the street when a lady in crossing the road fell down. The old gentleman rushed to her assistance and helped her in every possible way. When he returned to his wife, she looked like a thunder-bolt.

"It's all right; it's all right," he whispered.

"Yes, I know it's all right," she replied hotly. "Here's an unknown woman falls down, and you plover across the street to help her, and the other day, when I fell downstairs, you wanted to know if I was practicing for a circus."

The Christian Name.

The term "Christian name" is used in England and America only. "Baptismal name" is used in other countries. The term seems to have been used first after the reformation, when Biblical names were used as a reaction against the use of the saints' names in the calendar. It is evident that all Biblical names are not Christian, but the reaction went so far as to consider everything in the Bible as Christian and everything not in the Bible as pagan or certainly non-Christian.

A Rough Criticism.

Lord Houghton's epigram on "Sordello," probably the most obscure of Browning's poems, though it has often gone the rounds, is worth recalling. Said Lord Houghton, then only Dicky Milnes, "There are but two lines in 'Sordello' I can understand—the first and last—'Who will hear Sordello's story told,' and 'Who would hath heard Sordello's story told,' and both are false."

Exchange of Courtesies.

One of the keenest of journalists and wits, Moritz Gottlieb Sapir, had the better of the late stranger against whom he ran by accident at the corner of a street in Munich. "Beast!" cried the offended person without waiting for an apology. "Thank you," said the journalist, "and mine is Sapir!"
